is easy since mamma let's me take a package of M & G Potato Flakes to school 'most every other day.

We don't eat cheap candy any more, or store cookies, or anything but just big, golden curly-edged M & G's.

Umm-m, they're good! Better'n dill pickles even! And mother says each crisp flake is a little Health-Builder.

'Home Reading' Paper Issued by University

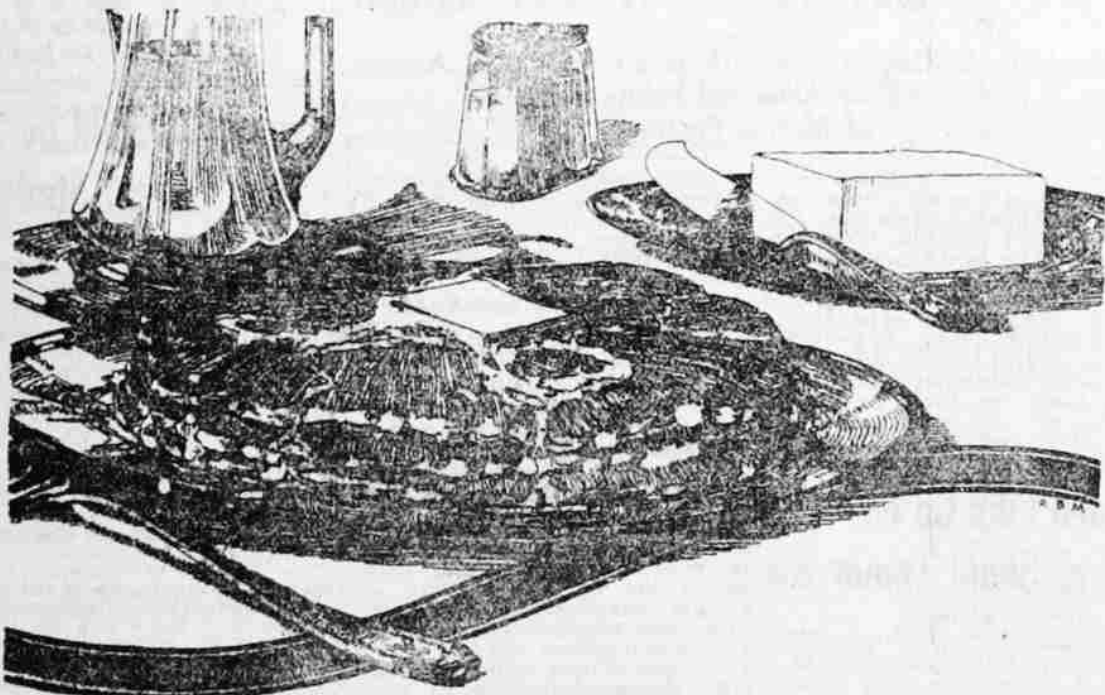

A bulletin of "Home Reading," edited by Dr. Joshua H. Paul, professor of natural science at the University of Utah, has just been published as one of the bulletins of the University extension division. The bulletin contains sixty-four pages of suggested readings for all ages and classes of readers with special attention given to books for Boy Scouts, Camp Fire and Bee Hive girls' organizations, and those interested in this work.

The stated aim of the bulletin is "to aid the home, the school, the church, the state, in making loyal, efficient and enthusiastic Americans." The subject matter of the bulletin deals with nature subjects for the first three years and the last three have to do with human relations. The central thought is given by Dr. Paul as "our very dearest we shall find the best opportunity for developing the qualities of real men and women."

Dr. I. Muir, state superintendent of schools; Oscar A. Kirkham, secret executive; Mary E. Dornay, library organizer of Utah; Ann M. Cannon, chairman of the general board of the Y. M. C. A.; and Joanna Sprague, Salt Lake librarian, all recommend the bulletin to the people of the state.

PEONS ON STRIKE. (By International News Service.) MEXICO CITY.—A strike of peon farm laborers on the "Tres Villas" haciendas in the state of Guanajuato is reported here. The peons have been getting one-half peso a day and now demand one peso a day for ten hours work.

Greenville, S. C., claims to have the largest policeman in the world, while Crystal Springs, Miss., puts up the smallest one.

PACIFIC NUT

On Your Hot Cakes, Muffins, Rolls and Toast

You'll like it the very first time, and you'll use it each time thereafter. It has a perfectly delicious flavor—pure and sweet—as much so as the finest creamery butter. Do not hesitate to place it on your table; you can be sure, in advance, that everyone will like it.

And just think what a saving about one-half the price of creamery butter will effect, without the slightest sacrifice of palatableness, richness or nutrition. You've nothing to lose—everything to gain by using this wonderfully good product.

PACIFIC NUT Margarine is the final word in nut butter making. It's made by churning creamy coconut oil and pasteurized milk together—a pure vegetable product, entirely free from any animal fats. From a spotlessly clean creamery, managed by expert butter makers, wrapped in parchment and sold in sanitary cartons. YOUR DEALER SELLS IT.

This is the Package—ask for it!

CADET CORPS IS INSPECTED

Major Cleary of San Francisco Has Favorable Comment for Ogden Unit

Major A. C. Cleary, with headquarters at San Francisco, arrived in Ogden early today from the coast to inspect the cadets of Ogden high school, the Salt Lake high school and the two detachments stationed at the University of Utah and the Utah Agricultural college.

The local cadets were inspected early today by Major Cleary. He complimented Lieutenant Everly on the showing of the cadets in their drills, of the number of cadets represented at the school, which now totals almost 400, and on the military precision displayed in their review.

The major said he would like to take the local battalion to San Francisco and show the Golden State students how to drill. During his inspection tour the major said he saw only one organization that compared with the Ogden cadets and that was the unit at the University of California.

While in Utah Major Cleary will also inspect the barracks at Fort Douglas. The inspection at the Ogden high school was held shortly after 9 a. m. today.

Officers of the cadet corps will be named during the present week, according to Lieutenant Ronald Everly. Thus far the commanding officer, adjutant and other officers have not been selected.

No Machine Guns for Her Now!

WASHINGTON—Once the wicked staccato of machine guns dinning in her ears, but now Miss Victoria Janushai hears only the rattle of typewriter keys. She's a stenographer in the office of the Lithuanian national council here. She was one of Russia's women soldiers against the Red army. Miss Janushai was arrested by the Reds for an anti-Bolshevik speech and joined a band of Red deserters and with them entered Kolchak's army. She fought in some of his bloodiest battles.

STOCKHOLDERS Suing ORPHEUM

Utah Interests Ask for Injunction and Demand Accounting

Willard Sawcrott of Ogden is named as one of the minority stockholders of the Utah Orpheum company, who have filed suit in the superior court at San Francisco, charging that Martin Beck and Morris Meyerfeld, Jr., and others with a controlling interest have looted the corporation and are attempting to freeze out the minority stockholders. The suit asks that a receiver be appointed for the corporation and that the defendants be compelled to make an accounting, according to San Francisco dispatches which reached Ogden today.

The suit is brought by J. H. Garrett, George H. Horn, E. C. Parsons, Frank J. Gustin, Willard Sawcrott, Mary E. Eldridge and O. P. Soule, executor of estate of Anna Pierce Bywater, deceased. They say they own 425 shares of 20-cent shares of capital stock in the Utah Orpheum company. The stock has a par value of $10 a share.

The corporation was organized under the laws of California in 1912. It operates the Orpheum theatre in Salt Lake.

The plaintiffs are represented by Attorney Hahlon Wilson of Salt Lake and Harry G. McKinnay of San Francisco. Named as defendants in the suit are the Utah Orpheum company, the Orpheum Theatre & Realty company, the Orpheum circuit, including Martin Beck, Morris Meyerfeld, Jr., S. Laz Lansburgh, F. B. Henderson and L. C. Brown.

Beck and Meyerfeld conspired with the Orpheum Theatre & Realty company, the complaint charges, so to manage the affairs of the Utah Orpheum company that the minority stockholders would get nothing. The Orpheum Theatre & Realty company holds 15,000 shares of the capital stock of the Utah company and the Orpheum Theatre & Realty company, a Delaware corporation, organized in October, 1919, owns the Orpheum Theatre & Realty company, the complaint says, and Beck owns at least 50 per cent of the Orpheum circuit, which controls forty-four theatres in the United States and Canada.

Proper records of the Utah Orpheum company never were kept, the complaint charges, and the moving picture, candy and program privileges of the Salt Lake City Orpheum were given to favorites of Beck and Meyerfeld. Under proper management, the complaint says, the privileges could be sold for $5000 a year. The defendants also voted to Meyerfeld $15,000 as salary, to which he was not entitled, the plaintiffs contend, and in December, 1919, arbitrarily charged the Utah Orpheum company $50,000 more in favor of the Orpheum Theatre & Realty company.

In furtherance of his attempt to freeze out the minority stockholders, Beck and his agents in November, 1919, spread reports among bankers and others that their stock was not worth 10 cents a share. They say that by proper management the Salt Lake theatre the stock would pay a dividend of 20 per cent a year, but that Beck recently has threatened to put through an assessment of $1 a share on the capital stock.

MUCH INTEREST IN EDNA GOODRICH'S APPEARANCE HERE

With a reputation gained from many seasons as a co-star with Nat C. Goodwin and further enhanced by a long engagement with the Mutual in photoplays, beautiful Edna Goodrich is now touring the country in person and will be seen at the Orpheum theatre Sunday and Monday.

Sunday night she plays "Shadows," a four-act play by Roy Octavius Cohen and on Monday she will be in "Sleeping Partners," a comedy direct from a seven month's run at the Bijou theatre.

Manager J. F. Goss makes the important assertion that the organization which will play in this city is the only one on tour and that the original production, the only one ever built for these plays in this country will be seen in the local presentation.

"Sleeping Partners" tells a story of an elusively delicate quality that would lose much in the mere description of plot. It is a thing that evaporates like the whiffs of perfume played over the rich furnishings of the bachelor room—and, incidentally, the front rows of the theatre—in which the three acts take place. French to the core from the three raps and gongs which announce the rise of the curtain, through its unfolding of the typical French triangle, to the final unique situation of the husband falling asleep, as the wife has done in the previous act, with the American friend as the "watcher." It is all very fanciful, light and gay and acted by a company which blows out to the full each glint and gleam in the sparkling texture of the material. Seats now on sale.

TWO SOLDIERS KILLED IN FIGHT OVER WHISKY

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 5.—Two soldiers from Camp Holabird were shot Thursday at the same time a detachment of Holabird soldiers was raiding a liquor cache near Chase, Md., where whisky valued at $10,000, alleged to have been stolen by Holabird soldiers from a back river store was recovered. Police believe the soldiers were shot by bootleggers who had been searching for the stolen whisky.
